2016-2017 Business Education Council Board President, Dr. Julie Donlon

To serve as president of the BEC is an exciting opportunity to continue to focus on two important entities in our community; our schools and businesses. By supporting the needs of both, our region will flourish. Wyoming County is a vibrant community and the opportunities available to residents and visitors are rich. The agricultural footprint, renewed energy, culture, arts and historical attractions make Wyoming County a great place to live and work. We must ensure student's interests and skills are aligned to the opportunities in our community. By partnering with school leaders and business leaders, we can accomplish this alignment. The services the BEC offers schools and local businesses is beneficial in preparing youth for the future workforce. I'm looking forward to an exciting year full of collaboration and a clear focus on our education and business partners.

The Wyoming County Community Health System was chosen as the Business Education Council's 2016 Business Partner in Education award at the 35th Annual Breakfast meeting.
