

Our mission is to inspire and equip communities through the power of storytelling. After working in thousands of communities we've developed the Edge Factor Suite of tools. Each of our platforms includes turnkey resources specifically designed to help you build a healthy community ecosystem where education and business, parents and students are all speaking to each other. Be equipped with multimedia and interactive resources to inspire audiences, develop your workforce, and make STEAM learning relevant.

Edge Factor For:

Community:

We are proud to stand alongside communities and provide solutions to develop and strengthen their economy. We provide your educators and companies with a bridge to build relationships and the resources to build your next workforce, specifically in the industry sectors that matter most to your community. Explore our case studies and get your community on board.

Business:

Be equipped with media and interactive activities to recruit new hires, strengthen your team, and reach into classrooms and homes to raise awareness of your company and available career opportunities. Edge Factor for Business opens the door for your company to reveal how STEAM comes alive in the real world and shows students the careers you have at your company.

Education:

Edge Factor for Education is an online platform that equips educators with extraordinary, real-life stories that spark teachable moments and turnkey learning resources that link to local career opportunities and show how STEAM comes alive in your community.

Edge Factor Presents:

CTE Strong:

The CTE Strong platform equips schools with a turnkey set of tools to celebrate their programs, showcase career pathways, and elevate the perception of Career and Technical Education. Guide your students to graduating job-ready and build a community that is CTE Strong. Join the movement today or contact us about getting your state on board.
